Elections Canada

For more information, go to canada.ca/cra-elections-canada.

A) Do you have Canadian citizenship? If yes, go to question B. If no, skip question B. 1 [X] Yes 2 [ ] No

B) As a Canadian citizen, do you authorize the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) to give your name, address, date of birth, and citizenship to Elections Canada to update the National Register of Electors or, if you are 14 to 17 years of age, the Register of Future Electors? 1 [ ] Yes 2 [X] No

Your authorization is valid until you file your next tax return. Your information will only be used for purposes permitted under the Canada Elections Act, which include sharing lists of electors produced from the National Register of Electors with provincial and territorial electoral agencies, members of Parliament, registered and eligible political parties, and candidates at election time.

Your information in the Register of Future Electors will be included in the National Register of Electors once you turn 18 and your eligibility to vote is confirmed. Information from the Register of Future Electors can be shared only with provincial and territorial electoral agencies that are allowed to collect future elector information. In addition, Elections Canada can use information in the Register of Future Electors to provide youth with educational information about the electoral process.

Indian Act - Exempt income

Check this box if you have income that is exempt under the Indian Act.
For more information about this type of income, go to canada.ca/taxes-indigenous-peoples. 1 [ ]

If you checked the box above, complete Form T90, Income Exempt from Tax under the Indian Act, so that the CRA can calculate your Canada workers benefit for the 2025 tax year, if applicable, and your family's provincial or territorial benefits. The information you provide on Form T90 will also be used to calculate your Canada training credit limit for the 2026 tax year.

Foreign property

Did you own or hold specified foreign property where the total cost amount of all such property, at any time in 2025, was more than CAN$100,000? 26600 1 [ ] Yes 2 [X] No

If yes, complete Form T1135, Foreign Income Verification Statement. There are substantial penalties for not filing Form T1135 by the due date. For more information, see Form T1135.

T1-2025

Amounts for Spouse or Common-Law Partner and Dependants

Schedule 5

Protected B when completed

Complete this schedule to claim an amount on line 30300, 30400, 30425 or 30450 of your return.

For information about the Canada caregiver amount for infirm children under 18 years of age, see line 30500 on page 6 of this schedule.

For specific eligibility requirements for each amount, see the charts on pages 2 to 6.

For more information about the Canada caregiver credit, go to canada.ca/caregiver-credit or see Income Tax Folio S1-F4-C2, Basic Personal and Dependant Tax Credits.

Attach a copy of this schedule to your paper return.

Eligibility for the Canada caregiver amount

You may be able to claim the Canada caregiver amount if, at any time in the year, one or more of the following individuals was dependent on you because of a mental or physical infirmity:

- your spouse or common-law partner
- your (or your spouse's or common-law partner's) child or grandchild
- your (or your spouse's or common-law partner's) parent, grandparent, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, niece, or nephew (if they resided in Canada at any time in the year)

For a person to be dependent on you because of a mental or physical infirmity, the dependency must be solely due to that infirmity. The degree of the infirmity requires the person to be dependent on you for a considerable period of time. A temporary illness or injury is not considered to be an infirmity for the purpose of the Canada caregiver amount.

Person with a mental or physical infirmity	Amount you may be able to claim
Spouse or common-law partner	both of the following amounts: • $2,687 in the calculation of line 30300 • up to $8,601 on line 30425
Eligible dependant 18 years of age or older (must meet conditions for amount for an eligible dependant at line 30400) (see note)	both of the following amounts: • $2,687 in the calculation of line 30400 • up to $8,601 on line 30425
Eligible dependant under 18 years of age at the end of the year (must meet conditions for amount for an eligible dependant at line 30400) (see note)	one of the following amounts: • $2,687 in the calculation of line 30400 • $2,687 on line 30500
Each of your or your spouse's or common-law partner's children under 18 years of age at the end of the year (see note)	$2,687 on line 30500
Each dependant 18 years of age or older (cannot be someone you claimed on line 30300 or line 30400)	up to $8,601 on line 30450

DRAFT - Not for filing

Note: You cannot claim an amount on lines 30400, 30450 and 30500 for your child if you were the only parent required to make support payments for that child to your current or former spouse or common-law partner. This rule applies only if one of the following conditions applied to you:

- You lived separate and apart from your current or former spouse or common-law partner throughout 2025 because of a breakdown of your relationship
- You were separated from your spouse or common-law partner for only part of 2025 because of a breakdown in your relationship and you are claiming a deduction on line 22000 of your return for support amounts that you paid to your current or former spouse or common-law partner

For more information, see lines 30400, 30450, and 30500 of this schedule.

Supporting documents

The Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) may ask for a signed statement from a medical practitioner showing when the infirmity began and what its duration is expected to be. However, a signed statement from a medical practitioner is not required if the CRA already has an approved Form T2201, Disability Tax Credit Certificate, for a specified period.

For children under 18 years of age, the statement should also show that the child is dependent on others for significantly more assistance in attending to personal needs and care than other children of the same age. Due to the mental or physical infirmity, the dependence on others is expected to last for a long and continuous period of indefinite duration. For more information and examples, see Income Tax Folio S1-F4-C2, Basic Personal and Dependant Tax Credits.

Line 30300 - Spouse or common-law partner amount

Claim this amount if, at any time in the year, you supported your spouse or common-law partner and their net income from line 23600 of their return (or the amount that it would be if they filed a return) was less than your basic personal amount (plus $2,687 if your spouse or common-law partner was dependent on you because of a mental or physical infirmity).

If you had to make support payments to your current or former spouse or common-law partner and you were separated for only part of 2025 because of a breakdown in your relationship, you can claim whichever amount is better for you:

- the amount on line 22000 of your return for deductible support payments made in the year to your current or former spouse or common-law partner
- the amount on line 30300 of your return for your spouse or common-law partner

If you reconciled with your spouse or common-law partner and were living together on December 31, 2025, you can claim an amount on line 30300 of your return and any allowable amounts on line 32600 of your return.

Only one spouse or common-law partner can claim the amount on line 30300 for each other for the same year.

Did your marital status change to a status other than married or living common-law in 2025? If yes, check this box and enter the date of the change.	55220	Month	Day
Basic personal amount from line 30000 of your return		16,129 00		1

(1) If your spouse or common-law partner is temporarily outside Canada but still considered a resident of Canada for tax purposes, enter their net world income.

If you were living with your spouse or common-law partner on December 31, 2025, use their net income for the whole year even if you separated for part of the year (then you got back together and started living together again in 2025), got married in 2025, or became a common-law partner or started to live with your common-law partner again in 2025.

If you separated in 2025 because of a breakdown in your relationship and were not back together on December 31, 2025, reduce your claim by the amount of your spouse's or common-law partner's net income before the separation.

If your spouse or common-law partner is a non-resident, enter their net world income in Canadian dollars. The CRA may ask you to provide supporting documents later.

DRAFT - Not for filing

Line 30400 - Amount for an eligible dependant

Claim this amount if, at any time in the year, you supported an eligible dependant and their net income from line 23600 of their return (or the amount that it would be if they filed a return) was less than your basic personal amount (plus $2,687 if the eligible dependant was dependent on you because of a mental or physical infirmity).

If you did not claim an amount on line 30300 of your return, you may be able to claim the amount for one eligible dependant if, at any time in the year, you met all the following conditions:

- You did not have a spouse or common-law partner or, if you did, you were not living with them, supporting them, or being supported by them
- You supported the dependant in 2025
- You lived with the dependant (in most cases in Canada) in a home you maintained. You cannot claim this amount for a person who was only visiting you

In addition, the dependant must also be one of the following persons by blood, marriage, common-law partnership or adoption:

- your parent or grandparent
- your child, grandchild, brother or sister under 18 years of age
- your child, grandchild, brother or sister 18 years of age or older with a mental or physical infirmity

Notes: For the purposes of this amount, the CRA considers your dependant to have lived with you if they usually live with you when they are not in school. Further, your child is not required to live in Canada, but they must still have lived with you. For example, you were a deemed resident living in another country with your child. (For information about deemed residents, go to canada.ca/cra-deemed-residents.)

You cannot claim this amount if any of the following applies:

- The person you want to claim this amount for is your spouse or common-law partner. (You may be able to claim an amount for your spouse or common-law partner on line 30300 of your return.)
- Another person is claiming the spouse or common-law partner amount on line 30300 of their return for this dependant
- Another person in your household is making this claim (Each household is allowed only one claim for this amount, even if there is more than one dependant in the household)
- Another person is claiming the amount on line 30400 of their return for this dependant. If you and another person can both claim this amount for the same dependant (such as in the shared custody of a child) but cannot agree on who will claim the amount, neither of you can make the claim
- You had to pay child support in 2025 for the eligible dependant. You cannot claim an amount on line 30400 for a child you had to make support payments for, except in the following situations:
  - You were separated from your spouse or common-law partner for only part of 2025 because of a breakdown in your relationship. In this case, you can choose to claim the amount for an eligible dependant on line 30400 of your return, plus any allowable amounts for that child on line 30425 and line 31800 of your return (where all the eligibility requirements are otherwise met) or the deductible support payments that you made to your spouse or common-law partner on line 22000 of your return.
  - You and another person had to make support payments for the child in 2025. Claim an amount on line 30400 only if you and the other person paying support agree that you will be the one making the claim. For more information, go to canada.ca/taxes-support-payments

Eligible dependant with a mental or physical infirmity

If the eligible dependant is 18 years of age or older and dependent on you because of a mental or physical infirmity, see line 30425 of this schedule.

If the eligible dependant is under 18 years of age at the end of the year, you may claim one of the following amounts:

- $2,687 on line 30500 of your return for each eligible dependant who is your (or your spouse's or common-law partner's) child
- $2,687 in the calculation of line 30400 if the eligible dependant does not meet the definition of child below

A child includes a person who is one of the following:

- your (or your spouse's or common-law partner's) biological or adopted child
- your child's spouse or common-law partner
- under your custody and control, and wholly dependent on you for support

Note: The eligible dependant must be dependent on others because of the infirmity and will likely continue to be dependent on others for a long and continuous period of indefinite duration. Because of this infirmity, the eligible dependant needs much more help with personal needs and care compared to other persons of the same age.

You cannot split this amount with another person. Once you claim this amount for a dependant 18 years of age or older, no one else can claim this amount or an amount on line 30425 of their return for that dependant.

If you were a single parent on December 31, 2025, and you chose to include all of the universal child care benefit lump-sum payment that you may have received in 2025 on your dependant's return, include this amount in the calculation of the dependant's net income.

If you cannot claim an amount on line 30400 of your return for an eligible dependant 18 years of age or older because you have a spouse or common-law partner, you may still be able to claim the Canada caregiver amount for other infirm dependants age 18 or older on line 30450 of your return.

DRAFT - Not for filing

Line 30450 - Canada caregiver amount for other infirm dependants age 18 or older

You can claim an amount for each dependent who meets all of the following conditions:

- They were dependent on you because of a mental or physical infirmity
- They were 18 years of age or older
- They were your (or your spouse's or common-law partner's) child, grandchild, parent, grandparent, brother, sister, aunt, uncle, niece, or nephew
- They were a resident of Canada at any time in the year. You cannot claim this amount for a person who was only visiting you
- Their net income from line 23600 of their return (or the amount it would be if they filed a return) was less than $28,798

You cannot claim an amount on line 30450 of your return for dependants who do not have a mental or physical infirmity, including a parent or grandparent.

A parent includes someone you were completely dependent upon and who had custody and control of you when you were under 19 years of age.

A child includes a person who is under your custody and control and is wholly dependent on you for support, even if they are older than you.

If you or another person is claiming an amount on line 30300 or on line 30400 of the return for the dependant, you cannot claim an amount on line 30450 of the return for that dependant.

If you had to make support payments for a child, you cannot claim an amount on line 30450 of your return for that child. However, if you were separated from your spouse or common-law partner for only part of 2025 because of a breakdown in your relationship, you may be able to claim an amount for that child on line 30450 of your return if you do not claim any support amounts paid to your spouse or common-law partner on line 22000 of your return. Claim whichever is better for you.

Note If you and another person support the same dependant, you can split the claim for that dependant. However, the total amount of your claim and the other person's claim cannot be more than the maximum amount allowed for that dependant.

Complete the chart below for each dependant who meets the conditions above.

Line 30500 - Canada caregiver amount for infirm children under 18 years of age

You can claim $2,687 for each of your (or your spouse's or common-law partner's) children who meet all of the following conditions: The child:

- Was under 18 years of age at the end of the year
- had a mental or physical infirmity and will likely continue to be dependent on others for a long and continuous period of indefinite duration
- needs much more help with personal needs and care compared to other children of the same age

Note: You can claim the full amount in the year of the child's birth, death, or adoption.

If the child does not live with both parents throughout the year, only the parent (or the parent's spouse or common-law partner) who claims an amount on line 30400 for that child can make the claim on line 30500. You may still be able to claim an amount on line 30500 for your child if you (or your spouse or common-law partner) could not claim the amount on line 30400 for any of the following reasons:

- You claimed an amount on line 30300 for your spouse or common-law partner
- You claimed an amount on line 30400 for another dependant
- Another person in your household claimed an amount on line 30400 for another dependant
- The child's income is too high

You (or your spouse or common-law partner) can claim this amount for all eligible children separately, but the amount can only be claimed once for each child.

If you have shared custody of the child throughout the year, the parent who claims the amount for an eligible dependant (line 30400) for that child can make the claim on line 30500. If you have shared custody of the child throughout the year, but cannot agree who will claim the amount, neither of you can make this claim.

If you and another person had to make support payments for the child in the year, you can claim this amount only if both of you agree that you will be making the claim.

If you were the only person who had to make support payments for the child for 2025, you may not be eligible to claim this amount for that child.

For more information about support payments, go to canada.ca/taxes-support-payments.

For the purposes of this amount, a child includes a person who is one of the following:

- your (or your spouse's or common-law partner's) biological or adopted child
- your child's spouse or common-law partner
- under your custody and control, and wholly dependent on you for support

DRAFT - Not for filing

Enter the number of children you are claiming this amount for on line 30499 of your return and enter the result of the calculation on line 30500.

Note: To transfer all or part of this amount to your spouse or common-law partner, or to claim all or part of their amount, complete schedule 2.

Joint Election to Split Pension Income

Complete this form if you (the transferring spouse or common-law partner) are electing to split your eligible pension income with your spouse or common-law partner (the receiving spouse or common-law partner). You must meet all of the following conditions:

- You and your spouse or common-law partner were not living separate and apart from each other, because of a breakdown in your marriage or common-law relationship, for a continuous period of 90 days or more which includes December 31, 2025
- You and your spouse or common-law partner were residents of Canada on December 31, 2025 (or on the date of death).
- You received any of the following amounts in the tax year:
  - pension income that qualifies for the pension income amount (see line 31400 of the Federal Worksheet), including eligible veterans benefits
  - certain qualifying amounts distributed from a retirement compensation arrangement (Box 17 of your T4A-RCA slips) and you reached 65 years of age before the end of the tax year.

Note Only one joint election can be made for a tax year. If both you and your spouse or common-law partner have eligible pension income, you need to decide who will be transferring and who will be receiving. The transferring spouse or common-law partner will be electing to allocate part of the eligible pension income to the receiving spouse or common-law partner

Filing instructions

If you are filing electronically, keep this form in case the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) asks to see it later. If you are filing a paper return, you must complete, sign, and attach copies of this form to both your return and your spouse's or common-law partner's return. The information on the forms must be the same

This form needs to be filed by your filing due date for the year. For more information on filing due dates, go to canada.ca/taxes-dates-individuals

Under certain circumstances, the CRA may allow you to make a late or amended election, or revoke an original election. Contact the CRA if you need more information

Step 3 - Enter the elected split-pension amount

Enter the amount that you and your spouse or common-law partner decide to jointly elect to be your split-pension amount for the year. The split-pension amount cannot be more than the amount from Line 21.	5,882 25	22

Enter this amount on line 21000 of the transferring spouse's or common-law partner's return and on line 11600 of the receiving spouse's or common-law partner's return.

DRAFT - Not for filing

Step 4 - Determine the adjustment to pension income amount

Part A - Calculate the pension income amount of the transferring spouse or common-law partner

Amount from line 1						12,834 00	23
If the transferring spouse or common-law partner entered an amount on line 8, complete lines 24 to 30. If not, enter the amount from line 22 at line 30.
Amount from line 22				5,882 25	24
Amount from line 8			25
Amount from line 17	12,834 00		26
Line 25 divided by line 26	0.00000		27
Amount from line 24	5,882 25		28
Line 27 multiplied by line 28		►			29
Line 24 minus line 29				5,882 25	►	5,882 25	30
Line 23 minus line 30						6,951 75	31
Enter on line 31400 of the transferring spouse's or common-law partner's return, whichever is less: $2,000 or the amount from line 31.

Part B - Calculate the pension income amount of the receiving spouse or common-law partner

If there is an amount on line 11500 or line 12900 of the receiving spouse's or common-law partner's return, enter the amount from line 8 of their Federal Worksheet for line 31400. Otherwise, enter "0".		32
If all of the following conditions apply, calculate line 33 according to the instructions in note 1 • the amount on line 32 is less than $2,000 • the receiving spouse or common-law partner was under age 65 on December 31, 2025 • the transferring spouse or common-law partner was age 65 or older and received any of the following amounts in the year: a) registered retirement income fund (RRIF), registered retirement savings plan (RRSP), or other annuit payments b) payments (other than life annuity payments) from a money purchase provision of a registered pension plan (RPP) or a specified pension plan (SPP) c) payments out of a pooled registered pension plan (PRPP) d) payments out of an advanced life deferred annuity e) eligible veterans benefits
Otherwise, enter the amount from line 30	5,882 25	33
Line 32 plus line 33	5,882 25	34
Enter on line 31400 of the receiving spouse's or common-law partner's return, whichever is less: $2,000 or the amount from line 34.

DRAFT - Not for filing

Note 1: If all the above conditions apply, calculate the amount to enter on line 33 as follows:

- Subtract from line 1 any of the above amounts noted in a) through e) received by the transferring spouse or common-law partner in the year. The receiving spouse or common-law partner does not need to remove those payments from line 1 if the transferring spouse or common-law partner has received those payments as a consequence of the death of a spouse or common-law partner in the year:
  - If the result is $4,000 or more, enter on line 33 the amount from line 30.
  - If the result is less than $4,000, use that result as the amount for line 17 to recalculate lines 18 to 31. Enter on line 33 whichever is less: the amount from line 22 or line 30.

Step 5 - Calculate the income tax deducted

Tax deducted from applicable slips eligible for the pension income deduction

T4A slips	1,925.00	T4RSP slips
T4RIF slips (adjust if Not eligible)		T4A-RCA life annuities
T4A-RCA (Box 17)		Adjustments (+ or -)		Total tax deducted 1,925 00

Enter the total tax deducted from the transferring spouse's or common-law partner's pension entered on line 17. 68040 1,925 00 • 35

If the information slips of the transferring spouse or common-law partner include income tax deducted for eligible and non-eligible pension income on the same slip, calculate the proportionate amount of income tax deducted to be included at line 35 for each slip as follows:
Total tax deducted × (Eligible pension ÷ total of eligible and non-eligible pension)

Calculate the income tax deducted for the elected split-pension amount

Amount from line 35: 1,925 00 x (Amount from line 22: 5,882 25 ÷ Amount from line 17: 12,834 00) = 68050 882 29 • 36

Part A - Calculate the income tax deducted for the transferring spouse or common-law partner

Total tax deducted from all of the transferring spouse's or common-law partner's slips. Enter the amount that you would have entered on line 43700 of your return if you did not choose to split your eligible pension income. If you were a resident of Quebec on December 31, 2025, do not include any of your Quebec provincial income tax deducted.	2,925 00	37
Amount from line 36	882 29	38
Line 37 minus line 38
Enter the result on line 43700 of thetransferring spouse's or common-law partner's return.	2,042 71	39

Part B - Calculate the income tax deducted for the receiving spouse or common-law partner

Total tax deducted from all of the receiving spouse's or common-law partner's slips. Enter the amount that you would have entered on line 43700 of your return if you did not choose to split your eligible pension income. If you were a resident of Quebec on December 31, 2025, do not include any of your Quebec provincial income tax deducted.		40
Amount from line 36		41
Line 40 plus line 41
Enter the result on line 43700 of the receiving spouse's or common-law partner's return.		42

DRAFT - Not for filing

Step 6 - Complete the joint certification

By completing this form and signing below, we jointly elect and certify that the split-pension amount entered on line 22 of Step 3 will be deducted in calculating the net income of the transferring spouse or common-law partner and reported as income by the receiving spouse or common-law partner on our income tax and benefit returns for 2025.
We understand that we will be jointly and severally liable for any amounts of tax, interest and penalties that may be owing as a result of this election.

Signature of transferring spouse or common-law partner — Date 2023-11-20

Signature of receiving spouse or common-law partner — Date 2023-11-20

It is a serious offence to make a false statement.

Saskatchewan Graduate Retention Program

Protected B when completed

2025

Complete Part 1 of this form to calculate your graduate tuition tax credit. Complete Part 2 to calculate your unused credit available for carry forward.

Your 2024 notice of assessment or reassessment will show the amount of Saskatchewan graduate tuition tax credit available for 2025, if any.

Eligible tuition fees are tuition fees for which you were entitled to claim the federal tuition amount after 2004 and up to the date you graduated. The tuition fees have to be paid for your enrolment in the eligible program certified on the Graduate Retention Program (GRP) certificate. If your GRP certificate is for a tax year prior to 2025, and you did not claim the Saskatchewan graduate tuition tax credit in that year or the following years, contact the Canada Revenue Agency to request an adjustment for those tax years.

If you are filing a paper return, attach a copy of this form as well as the 2025 GRP certificate and receipts that support the tuition amount to your return.

Part 1 - Graduate tuition tax credit

If you applied for and obtained a GRP certificate for the 2025 tax year from the Saskatchewan Ministry of Advanced Education, complete line 1.

If you have more than one certificate for 2025, complete lines 2 and 3 as needed.
