T1-2024

Amounts for Spouse or Common-Law Partner and Dependants

Schedule 5

Protected B when completed

Complete this schedule to claim an amount on line 30300, 30400, 30425 or 30450 of your return.
For information about the Canada caregiver amount for infirm children under 18 years of age, see line 30500 on the last page of this schedule.
Attach a copy of this schedule to your paper return.

Eligibility for the Canada caregiver amount

You may be able to claim the Canada caregiver amount for 2024 if, at any time in the year, you supported your spouse or common-law partner with an impairment in physical or mental functions, or if one or more of the following individuals was dependent on you for support because of an impairment in physical or mental functions:

- your (or your spouse's or common-law partner's) child or grandchild
- your (or your spouse's or common-law partner's) parent, grandparent, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, niece or nephew (if they resided in Canada at any time in the year)

An individual is considered to be dependent on you for support if they rely on you to regularly and consistently provide them with some or all of the basic necessities of life, such as food, shelter and clothing.

Person with an impairment in physical or mental functions	You may be entitled to claim
Spouse or common-law partner	both of the following amounts: • $2,616 in the calculation of line 30300 • up to $8,375 on line 30425
Eligible dependant 18 years of age or older (who is a person you are eligible to make a claim for on line 30400) (see note)	both of the following amounts: • $2,616 in the calculation of line 30400 • up to $8,375 on line 30425
Eligible dependant under 18 years of age at the end of the year (who is a person you are eligible to make a claim for on line 30400) (see note)	one of the following amounts: • $2,616 in the calculation of line 30400 • $2,616 on line 30500
Each of your (or your spouse's or common-law partner's) children under 18 years of age at the end of the year (see note)	$2,616 on line 30500
Each dependant 18 years of age or older who is not your spouse or common-law partner or an eligible dependant for whom an amount is claimed on line 30300 or line 30400	up to $8,375 on line 30450

Note: You cannot claim an amount on lines 30400, 30450 and 30500 for your child if you were the only parent required to make support payments for that child to your current or former spouse or common-law partner. This rule applies only if one of the following conditions applied to you:

- You lived separate and apart from your current or former spouse or common-law partner throughout 2024 because of a breakdown of your relationship
- You were separated from your spouse or common-law partner for only part of 2024 because of a breakdown in your relationship and you are claiming a deduction on line 22000 of your return for support amounts that you paid to your current or former spouse or common-law partner

For more information, see lines 30400, 30450, and 30500 of this schedule.

Supporting documents

The Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) may ask for a signed statement from a medical practitioner showing when the impairment began and what its duration is expected to be. However, a signed statement from a medical practitioner is not required if the CRA already has an approved From T2201, Disability Tax Credit Certificate, for a specified period.

For children under 18 years of age, the statement should also show that the child is, and will likely continue to be, dependent on others for a long and continuous period because of an impairment in physical or mental functions. (Dependent on others means the child needs much more help for their personal needs and care compared to children of the same age.)

Line 30300 - Spouse or common-law partner amount

Claim this amount if, at any time in the year, you supported your spouse or common-law partner and their net income from line 23600 of their return (or the amount that it would be if your spouse or common-law partner had filed a return) was less than your basic personal amount (plus $2,616 if your spouse or common-law partner was dependent on you because of an impairment in physical or mental functions).

If you had to make support payments to your current or former spouse or common-law partner and you were separated for only part of 2024 because of a breakdown in your relationship, you can claim whichever amount is better for you:

- the amount on line 22000 of your return for deductible support payments made in the year to your current or former spouse or common-law partner
- the amount on line 30300 of your return for your spouse or common-law partner

If you reconciled with your spouse or common-law partner and were living together on December 31, 2024, you can claim an amount on line 30300 of your return and any allowable amounts on line 32600 of your return.

Only one spouse or common-law partner can claim the amount on line 30300 for each other for the same year.

Did your marital status change to a status other than married or living common-law in 2024? If yes, check this box and enter the date of the change.	55220	Month	Day
Basic personal amount from line 30000 of your return		15,168 63		1
If you are eligible for the Canada caregiver amount for your spouse or common-law partner, enter $2,616 (see line 30425 on page 4).	51090	+		2
Line 1 plus line 2		=		3
Your spouse's or common-law partner's net income from line 23600 of their return (1)		-		4
Line 3 minus line 4 (if negative, enter "0"). Enter this amount on line 30300 of your return.		=		5

(1) If you were living with your spouse or common-law partner on December 31, 2024, use their net income for the whole year even if you separated for part of the year (then you got back together and started living together again in 2024), you got married in 2024 or became a common-law partner or started to live with your common-law partner again in 2024.

If you separated in 2024 because of a breakdown in your relationship and were not back together on December 31, 2024, reduce your claim by the amount of your spouse's or common-law partner's net income before the separation.

If your spouse or common-law partner is a non-resident, enter their net income in Canadian dollars. The CRA may ask you to provide supporting documents later.

Line 30400 - Amount for an eligible dependant

Claim this amount if, at any time in the year, you supported an eligible dependant and their net income from line 23600 of their return (or the amount that it would be if your eligible dependant had filed a return) was less than your basic personal amount (plus $2,616 if the eligible dependant was dependent on you because of an impairment in physical or mental functions).

If you did not claim an amount on line 30300 of your return, you may be able to claim this amount for one dependant if, at any time in the year, you met all the following conditions:

- You did not have a spouse or common-law partner or, if you did, you were not living with them, supporting them, or being supported by them
- You supported the dependant in 2024
- You lived with the dependant (in most cases in Canada) in a home you maintained. You cannot claim this amount for a person who was only visiting you

In addition, the dependant must also be one of the following persons by blood, marriage, common-law partnership or adoption:

- your parent or grandparent
- your child, grandchild, brother or sister under 18 years of age
- your child, grandchild, brother or sister 18 years of age or older with an impairment in physical or mental functions

Notes: If your dependant usually lives with you when not in school, the CRA considers that dependant to live with you for the purposes of this amount.
For the purposes of this claim, your child is not required to live in Canada but they must still have lived with you. For example, you were a deemed resident living in another country with your child. (For information about deemed residents, go to canada.ca/cra-deemed-residents.)

You cannot claim this amount if any of the following applies:

- The person you want to claim this amount for is your spouse or common-law partner. (You may be able to claim an amount for your spouse or common-law partner on line 30300 of your return.)
- Another person is claiming the spouse or common-law partner amount on line 30300 of their return for this dependant
- Another person in your household is making this claim (Each household is allowed only one claim for this amount, even if there is more than one dependant in the household)
- Another person is claiming the amount on line 30400 of their return for this dependant. If you and another person can both claim this amount for the same dependant (such as in the shared custody of a child) but cannot agree on who will claim the amount, neither of you can make the claim
- You had to pay child support in 2024 for the eligible dependant. You cannot claim an amount on line 30400 for a child you had to make support payments for, except in the following situations:
  - You were separated from your spouse or common-law partner for only part of 2024 because of a breakdown in your relationship. In this case, you can choose to either claim the amount for an eligible dependant on line 30400 of your return, plus any allowable amounts for that child on line 30425 and line 31800 of your return, (where all the eligibility requirements are otherwise met) or you can chose to claim the deductible support payments you paid to your spouse or common-law partner on line 22000 of your return instead.
  - You and another person had to make support payments for the child in 2024. Claim an amount on line 30400 only if you and the other person paying support agree that you will be the one making the claim. For more information, see Guide P102, Support Payments

Eligible dependant with an impairment in physical or mental functions

If the eligible dependant is 18 years of age or older and dependent on you because of an impairment in physical or mental functions, see line 30425 of this schedule.

If the eligible dependant is under 18 years of age at the end of the year, you may claim one of the following amounts:

- $2,616 on line 30500 of your return for each eligible dependant who is your (or your spouse's or common-law partner's) child
- $2,616 in the calculation of line 30400 if the eligible dependant does not meet the definition of child below

A child includes a person who is one of the following:

- your (or your spouse's or common-law partner's) biological or adopted child
- your child's spouse or common-law partner
- under your custody and control and who is wholly dependent on you for support, even if they are older than you

Note: The eligible dependant must be dependent on others because of the impairment and will likely continue to be dependent on others for an indefinite duration. Because of this impairment, the eligible dependant needs much more help for personal needs and care compared to other persons of the same age.

You cannot split this amount with another person. Once you claim this amount for a dependant 18 years of age or older, no one else can claim this amount or an amount on line 30425 of their return for that dependant.

If you were a single parent on December 31, 2024 and you chose to include all of the universal child care benefit lump-sum payment that you may have received in 2024 on your dependant's return, include this amount in the calculation of the dependant's net income.

If you cannot claim an amount on line 30400 of your return for an eligible dependant 18 years of age or older because you have a spouse or common-law partner, you may still be able to claim the Canada caregiver amount for other infirm dependants age 18 or over on line 30450 of your return.

- They were your (or your spouse's or common-law partner's) child, grandchild, parent, grandparent, brother, sister, aunt, uncle, niece, or nephew
- They were a resident of Canada at any time in the year. You cannot claim this amount for a person who was only visiting you
- Their net income from line 23600 of their return (or the amount it would be if the dependant had filed a return) was less than $28,041

You cannot claim an amount on line 30450 of your return for dependants who do not have an impairment in physical or mental functions, including a parent or grandparent.

A parent includes someone you were completely dependent upon and who had custody and control of you when you were under 19 years of age.

A child includes a person who is under your custody and control and is wholly dependent on you for support, even if they are older than you.

If you or another person is claiming an amount on line 30300 or on line 30400 of the return for the dependant, you cannot claim an amount on line 30450 of the return for that dependant.

If you had to make support payments for a child, you cannot claim an amount on line 30450 of your return for that child. However, if you were separated from your spouse or common-law partner for only part of 2024 because of a breakdown in your relationship, you may be able to claim an amount for that child on line 30450 of your return if you do not claim any support amounts paid to your spouse or common-law partner on line 22000 of your return. Claim whichever is better for you.

Note If you and another person support the same dependant, you can split the claim for that dependant. However, the total amount of your claim and the other person's claim cannot be more than the maximum amount allowed for that dependant.

Complete the chart below for each dependant who meets the conditions above.

Information about your dependant

First name:	Last name:	Year of birth	Relationship to you

Address:

Infirm dependant's net income from line 23600 of their return	-	2
Allowable amount for this dependant:
Line 1 minus line 2 (if negative, enter "0") (maximum $8,375)	=	3

Enter on line 30450 of your return the total of allowable amounts claimed for all dependants.

Enter the number of dependants you are claiming this amount for. 51120

Line 30500 - Canada caregiver amount for infirm children under 18 years of age

You can claim $2,616 for each of your (or your spouse's or common-law partner's) children who meet all of the following conditions: The child:

- Was under 18 years of age at the end of the year
- had an impairment in physical or mental functions and will likely continue to be dependent on others for an indefinite duration
- needs much more help with personal needs and care compared to children of the same age

Note: You can claim the full amount in the year of the child's birth, death, or adoption.

If the child does not live with both parents throughout the year, only the parent (or the parent's spouse or common-law partner) who claims an amount on line 30400 for that child can make the claim on line 30500. You may still be able to claim an amount on line 30500 for your child if you (or your spouse or common-law partner) could not claim the amount on line 30400 for any of the following reasons:

- You claimed an amount on line 30300 for your spouse or common-law partner
- You claimed an amount on line 30400 for another dependant
- Another person in your household claimed an amount on line 30400 for another dependant
- The child's income is too high

You (or your spouse or common-law partner) can claim this amount for all eligible children separately, but the amount can only be claimed once for each child.

If you have shared custody of the child throughout the year, the parent who claims the amount for an eligible dependant (line 30400) for that child can make the claim on line 30500. If you have shared custody of the child throughout the year but cannot agree who will claim the amount, neither of you can make this claim.

If you and another person had to make support payments for the child in the year, you can claim this amount only if both of you agree that you will be making the claim.

If you were the only person who had to make support payments for the child for 2024, you may not be eligible to claim this amount for that child.

For more information about support payments, see Guide P102, Support Payments.

For the purposes of this amount, a child includes a person who is one of the following:

- your (or your spouse's or common-law partner's) biological or adopted child
- your child's spouse or common-law partner
- under your custody and control and is completely dependent on you for support

Enter the number of children you are claiming this amount for on line 30499 of your return and enter the result of the calculation on line 30500.

Note: To transfer all or part of this amount to your spouse or common-law partner, or to claim all or part of their amount, complete schedule 2.

 If you have a negative amount in column 7, add it to income as a recapture in Part 3C on line 8230. If no property is left in the class and there is a positive amount in this column, deduct the amount from income as a terminal loss in Part 4 on line 9270. Recapture and terminal loss do not apply to a Class 10.1 property unless it is a DIEP. For more information, read Chapter 4 of Guide T4002.

 For information on CCA for "Part 7 - Calculating business-use-of-home expenses," see "Special situations" in Chapter 4 of Guide T4002. To help you calculate the CCA, see the calculation charts in Areas B to G.

See next page for notes 1 to 7.

Note 1: Columns 4, 6, 8 and 9 apply only to designated immediate expensing properties (DIEPs). See subsection 1104(3.1) of the federal Income Tax Regulations for the definitions. A DIEP is a property that you acquired after December 31, 2021, and that became available for use in the current year. For more information, see Guide T4002.

Note 2: The proceeds of disposition of a zero-emission passenger vehicle (ZEPV) that has been included in Class 54, or a passenger vehicle bought after April 18, 2021, that has been included in Class 10.1, and whose cost is more than the prescribed amount will be adjusted based on a factor equal to its prescribed amount as a proportion of the actual cost of the vehicle. For dispositions after July 29, 2019, you will have to adjust the actual cost of the vehicle for any payments or repayments of government assistance that you may have received or repaid for the vehicle. If the passenger vehicle in Class 10.1 is not designated for immediate expensing treatment, this special rule does not apply. For more information on proceeds of disposition and prescribed amounts, read "Class 10.1 (30%)" and "Class 54 (30%)" in Guide T4002.

Note 3: The amount you enter in column 8 must not be more than the amount in column 7. If the amount in column 7 is negative, enter "0."

Note 4: The immediate expensing applies to DIEPs included in column 8. The total immediate expensing amount for the tax year (total of column 9) is limited to the lesser of:

- the immediate expensing limit, which is equal to one of the following, whichever is applicable:
  - $1.5 million, if you are not associated with any other eligible person or partnership (EPOP) in the tax year
  - amount iii of Area G, if you are associated with one or more EPOPs in the tax year
  - zero, if you are associated with one or more EPOPs and an agreement that assigns a percentage to one or more of the associated EPOPs was not filed with the Minister in a prescribed form
  - any amount allocated by the Minister under subsection 1104(3.4) of the Regulations
- the UCC of DIEPs in column 8
- the amount of income, if any, earned from the source of income that is a business (before any CCA deductions) in which therelevant DIEP is used for the tax year

For more information, see Guide T4002.

Note 5: Columns 11, 13 and 14 apply only to accelerated investment incentive properties (AIIPs) (see subsection 1104(4) of the federal Income Tax Regulations for the definition), zero-emission vehicles (ZEVs), ZEPVs and other eligible zero-emission automotive equipment and vehicles that become available for use in the year. In this chart, ZEVs represent zero-emission vehicles, zero-emission passenger vehicles and other eligible zero-emission automotive equipment and vehicles. An AIIP is a property (other than a ZEV) that you acquired after November 20, 2018, and that became available for use before 2028.
A ZEV is a motor vehicle included in Class 54 or 55 that you acquired after March 18, 2019, and that became available for use before 2028, or eligible zero-emission automotive equipment and vehicles included in Class 56 acquired after March 1, 2020, and that became available for use before 2028. For more information, see Guide T4002.

Note 6: For properties available for use before 2026, the relevant factors are 1 1/2 (Classes 43.1, 54, and 56), 7/8 (Class 55), 1/2 (Classes 43.2 and 53), and 0 for any remaining AIIPs not listed in this note.

Note 7: If, in the year, you disposed of a property that you used for both personal and business use, and your business use of that property changed from year to year, you must subtract any remaining personal part of this property's cost from the UCC at the end of the year. For more information, see "Special situations" in Chapter 4 of Guide T4002.

(1) An eligible temporary relocation expense does not include:
- an expense that you have already deducted from income for any tax year (such as the moving expenses deduction)
- a labour mobility deduction that could have been deducted in a previous year
- an expense that you are or were entitled to receive a reimbursement, allowance, or any other form of assistance for

The total eligible temporary relocation expenses that you can claim, including expenses carried forward from the prior year, is limited to 50% of the employment income from that relocation in the current year. The employment income must be from employment as an eligible tradesperson.

(2) Temporary lodging is an eligible temporary relocation expense if, throughout the period of the taxpayer's temporary relocation, the taxpayer maintains their ordinary residence as their principal place of residence, and the ordinary residence remains available for the taxpayer's occupancy and is not rented to any other person.

(3) You can carry forward your unused temporary relocation expenses from line 40 and deduct them from employment income earned at the same temporary work location in the following year. For more information, see Guide T4044, Employment Expenses.

(4) You must calculate your employment-use amount.

Example of how to calculate your employment-use amount (line 48)

You are a salaried employee who worked from home using your dining room table. The dining room represents 12% of the total square footage of your house and is used for work for 40 hours out of a total 168 hours in the week.

You paid $2,400 for electricity, heat, water, and Internet and $12,000 for rent. You will enter $2,400 on line 42, $12,000 on line 46, and $14,400 on line 47.

To determine your employment-use amount, you must first calculate your employment-use percentage, as follows:
(40 hours ÷ 168 hours) x 12% = 2.9%

Your employment-use amount is $14,400 from line 47:
($2,400 + $12,000) x 2.9% = $417.60.
Enter $417.60 on line 48.
