Introduction

T3 Electronic filing (T3 EFILE) is limited to the T3 Trust Income Tax and Information Return (T3RET), T3 Supplementary Unemployment Benefit Plan Income Tax Return (T3S), T3 Environmental Trust Income Tax Return (T3M), T3 Retirement Compensation Arrangement Part XI.3 Tax Return (T3RCA), and the T3 Amateur Athlete Trust Income Tax Return (T3ATH-IND) for the current 2021, 2022 and 2023 tax years only. It is an automated service that permits those who prepare tax returns on behalf of others to electronically file them to the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA). You must use a software product certified for T3 EFILE to transmit the T3 returns using a web service. You will receive a "real-time" acknowledgement, which means a confirmation number is provided almost instantly using the same web service.

The purpose of this chapter is to provide supplementary information for tax preparers and software developers for the completion of the electronic return and the correction of errors. This chapter does not replace or contain information that is in the T3 Trust Guide, other supplementary guides, or other CRA publications.

Ensure the return contains all the required information before it is transmitted. If we have accepted and processed your client's tax return, you or your client may be able to submit an adjustment request online. Please visit the T3 Guide for more information on how to submit a T3 adjustment request.

Support

If you receive an error message after you transmit a return, consult Chapter 2 of the Electronic Filers Manual. If you have questions regarding the error messages or any problems regarding the authentication for EFILE numbers and passwords, the EFILE Helpdesk is available for assistance. Please make every attempt to contact your designated Helpdesk. You may read the following webpages for more information:

Processing returns

Electronic returns

Subsection 150.1(3) of the Income Tax Act states: "For the purposes of section 150, where a return of income of a taxpayer for a taxation year is filed by way of electronic filing, it shall be deemed to be a return of income filed with the Minister in prescribed form on the day the Minister acknowledges acceptance of it."

For an electronic record to be deemed a return of income filed with the Minister in prescribed form, a confirmation number must be generated by EFILE.

Near real-time processing

The CRA begins processing EFILE tax returns for the 2022 and 2023 tax years on February 20, 2023. The majority of accepted EFILE returns are processed shortly after being filed in near real time. Paper notices of assessment for EFILE returns will be issued via a batch cycle process. The first notice of assessment date will be in early March 2023.

Payment of balance owing

Inform clients that payment of any balance owing on the 2022 tax return is due no later than 90 days after the trust's tax year-end. Interest is charged on unpaid amounts and the total amount of penalties assessed. This interest is compounded daily, at a prescribed rate starting on the day after the unpaid amount was due until the date of its payment. Inform clients that if they cannot pay in full upon filing their return, they may go to canada.ca/cra-collections for additional information.

Go to canada.ca/guide-taxes-payments for information on the different types of payment methods.

Refund enquiries

Do not direct your client's refund enquiries to the EFILE Helpdesks. Instead, your client should call 1-800-959-8281. Go to canada.ca/cra-individual-income-tax-enquiries-line for the hours of telephone service. Advise your client that the CRA enquiries officers can only check the status of the refund four weeks after the electronic return has been accepted by the Agency for processing. You must inform your client accordingly if a delay is encountered in the submission of the EFILE return.

Election documentation

For ease of discussion in this part, all elections, designations, agreements, waivers, and special elective returns are referred to as “elections.”

The Income Tax Act provides for various elections to be made. Some are made on authorized CRA forms. Others are made by providing specific information in a letter or note.

All elections, including the supporting documentation, must be submitted to the CRA in writing or through the Submit documents online service. In order for an election to be considered valid, it must be submitted by the due date established in the Act.

When submitting this documentation:

- Clearly state the trust name and the trust account number on all the election forms and letters.
- Clearly indicate in the covering letter that this documentation is submitted in support of the trusts’s electronically filed return.

All other documentation used to prepare the return, excluding elections as indicated, is to be retained and sent to the CRA only if requested.
